

Partner Profile:

bvo, Bundesverband Osteopathie e.V.

The bvo, Bundesverband Osteopathie e.V.(bvo) is an association established in 2002 to promote and inform the public about osteopathy. It employs approximately 5 staff, and represents approximately 650 members from all over Germany. The bvo is currently working toward the legal recognition of the osteopath as a first contact practitioner in Germany, as well as for the academisation of osteopathy.

It's major activities include:

- Lobbying for osteopathy, and
- Attempting to get all the different osteopathic groups in Germany unified, to better assist its members.

The Bvo does not have special programmes for foreign students, but accepts them as members.
