

Institute of Osteopathic Medicine of the North-Western State Medical University named after I.I. Mechnikov

The Institute of Osteopathic Medicine of the North-Western State Medical University named after I.I. Mechnikov focuses on the training of professional osteopaths at a high level within the bounds of the State University. The institute was established in 2000 and employs 70 staff. There are currently 245 students located throughout the country, with limited foreign membership for those in counties of the Commonwealth of Independent States.

Although there are no locations in other countries, the institute is participating in the teaching of osteopathy in Kyrgyzstan, Kazakhstan, and Israel. The institute promotes academic, pedagogical, and scientific engagement and activities to support the creation of a new medical profession throughout Russia and advocacy for osteopathy as a whole.

Contact: Mokhov Dmitry, MD, DO, PhD
1/82, Zanevsky Prospect
Saint-Petersburg, Russia
195196
Phone: +007 812 445 20 92
Fax: +007 812 445 20 92
Email: osteopen@yandex.ru
Website: www.studentdo.com