

Registre des osteopathes du Quebec (ROQ)

The ROQ was established in 1984 as an association that emphasises regulation and public protection. Its mission is to unify all osteopaths in Quebec to insure their competency in practice and health care quality in order to protect the public. The ROQ has one location with one full time and one part-time staff and currently represents 460 members mainly in the Province of Québec.

ROQ's objective is bringing legal regulation of practice and teaching of osteopathy to Quebec. Its major activities include:

- References and information for the public,
- Member services,
- Lobby and contacts to different levels of government in order to bring legal regulation of osteopathy to Quebec, and
- Contact with national and international osteopathic organisations.

The ROQ accepts foreign members once they have qualified through an evaluation process with the association.

We believe that annual meetings with regulation, teaching and research activities are very helpful to ensure visibility and helping government recognition in countries where regulation is in process. Thank you!
